New students become friendly during a group icebreaker

The events of orientation week introduced new experiences to college life for the freshman and transfers. Other than meeting classmates and exploring the campus, the students enjoyed three days of icebreaker games, inspirational speakers, and plain old fun before the real studying was to begin.

Blast off was the final touch of orientation week. The entire student body for the 2005-2006 school year joined under one roof and could enjoy food, pictures, games, and entertainment.

Family Weekend & Midnight Madness

Parents eating at shrimp broil

Moms, dads, brothers and sisters were all welcomed by the Family Association to spend a weekend on the Florida Southern College campus with their sons and/or daughters. There were planned events to assure the spending of quality time together including a shrimp broil, planetarium shows, and fireworks.

Spending time together

Let's get ready to rumble! Midnight Madness revved the spirit for a new athletic season. Hosted by Sarah House, the night introduced the players of both men and woman basketball teams and recognized all other athletic teams on campus. The dance teams and cheerleaders performed while students ate popcorn from mini megaphones.

Big Shawn was an act no one should have missed. The six-time performer on B.E.T.'s Comic View, performed at the Bandshell. His great jokes and punch lines kept the audience laughing all night.

Billy Blanks

Billy Blanks speaking at Convocation

On February 24, the famous Tae-bo instructor, Billy Blanks, visited Florida Southern College. During the 10:10 convocation period, students gathered in Branscomb Auditorium to listen to Billy Blanks' motivational speech about how he overcame personal obstacles. He shared with students his experience in special education classes while in school, and how he struggled with a hip problem that doctors told him would leave him with many limitations.

Despite having both educational and physical restrictions placed on him, Billy Blanks proved to be a true inspiration, as he discussed how he used his faith and extreme dedication to devise the successful work out program that we know today as Tae-bo. During his speech, Billy Blanks invited a few lucky students up on stage, and challenged them to perform certain maneuvers to further help illustrate his main points about how you can do anything you set your mind to. After his speech, Billy Blanks invited the students, faculty, and staff to attend a campus wide Tae-bo workout.

Homecoming at FSC holds many events for students and alumni. The weeks events include Southern Olympics, Founders Convocation, Founders Day Ball, Child of the Sun Jazz Festival, and the infamous fireworks. Alumni were welcomed on Friday by an Art Gallery opening and Saturday with early morning breakfast. Students were invited to decorate floats for the parade on Saturday afternoon.

Goodbye Panhellenic

The 50 year-old Panhellenic building on Lake Hollingsworth Drive

Florida Southern College has made several changes to the campus since its founding in 1885. Located in the heart of Florida, FSC holds the largest collection of Frank Lloyd Wright architecture. When preservation of our historic campus is discussed or changes arise, it seems to raise some controversy.

In October of 2005, FSC President Dr.. Anne B. Kerr announced a gift to the campus given by Carol and Barney Barnett. The gift, which will replace the vintage Panhellenic dorms, is a new Residential Life Center that will house more than 180 new rooms as well as an entertainment center, 24 hour study room, media/computer center and outdoor park. Although President Anne B. Kerr says the new life center will “tremendously transform the quality of the student life experience,” the student body has until April 2008 to agree with that conclusion.

The Student Government Association of Florida Southern College strives to empower, communicate, and promote unity through education and service in order to represent the student body. As members of the campus community, SGA is dedicated to developing relationships, facilitating changes that benefit students, and improving the quality of student life. SGA accomplishes these goals while upholding the values and integrity of our college.

Residence Hall Association

The mission of the Residence Hall Association is to support the missions of the college by providing a living environment, which fosters the educational pursuits of a diverse student population. The facilities and services are designed to provide a supportive and safe environment, accommodating the needs of the students, while ensuring that all concerns are addressed to the satisfaction of all parties involved.

Entertainment

Association of Campus Entertainment

The Association of Campus Entertainment (ACE) is responsible for sponsoring a variety of events and activities throughout the year. Since ACE is primarily a student-run organization, all entertainment is chosen by the students for the students. Throughout the year they sponsor events such as concerts, comedians, dances, coffeehouses and movies.

Art

Dani Miller, Greg Wortham, Lisa Erdman, Bill Otremsky, Ligia Carvallo, Jim Rogers

Art majors choose concentrations between studio art, graphic designs, art education and art history. Studio art major are encouraged to go to graduate school or get jobs in related fields, including art design studios and art galleries. Graphic design majors receive jobs in print and web design fields. The art education majors have a 100 percent hire rate as teachers. Art history graduates will continue on to graduate schools or get jobs in museums.

Biology

First Row: Bob Baum, Nancy Morvillo, Laurence Campbell
Second Row: John Tripp, John Haldeman
Third Row: Eric Kjellmark

Biology majors continue to succeed after graduation. Some enter medical school; others go to veterinary or dentistry school. Several graduates get jobs immediately while others go to graduate school.

Business

The business department offers three majors: accounting, business administration and economics. The business students can choose from a variety of concentrations: human resource management, financial management, computer information systems, hotel and resort management and international business. The department also offers a graduate program, which includes a track in international business. Some students choose to stay a fifth year and take the CPA certification test

Chemistry

Stacey Boyette, Carmen Gauthier, Mossayeb Jamshid, Leon Gardner

The chemistry department offers classes like organic chemistry, forensic chemistry and physical chemistry. Students in this major give of their time in community service, being dedicated to educating students and the surrounding communities about the importance of chemistry.

Citrus & Horticulture

N. Cutis Peterson, Angela Rivenshield, Tim Hurner,
Malcolm M. Manners

The Citrus and Horticulture department offers educational opportunities for careers in Florida's citrus, horticulture and turf industries, as well as agricultural industries in other parts of the nation and world.

Criminology & Sociology

Social issues, values, standards and behavior norms are continually changing in society. Students in the criminology and sociology department accept the challenge of studying and shaping society's behavior and its effects on our lives. Sociology and criminology majors didn't just worry about the problems; they learn how to identify them, analyze them and find solutions.

Communication

Cindy Johnson, Bob Drake, William Gregory, David
Snodgrass, Christopher Fenner, Vicki Wuertz

Communication majors choose between public relations, news media, and advertising concentrations. All majors take the same common classes of Media Writing and Desktop Publishing. The communication students have the important job of keeping the students informed through The Southern, the campus newspaper, and The Interlachen yearbook. The communication department has student chapters of professional organizations such as The Advertising Federation and The Florida Public Relations Association.

Education

Students in the education department experience life in the classroom firsthand. The preschool lab is on campus and children from the community attend. It is available three days a week, and caters to three and four-year-olds. FSC students can prepare for and teach classes.

English

Creativity, a critical brain and a love of language are qualities that make an English major. The mission of the English department is to improve students' skills in writing, thinking, and reading; to stimulate imagination and intellectual growth by supporting publications, presentations, clubs, and honor societies, and by teaching with energy and enthusiasm. English majors go into journalism and publishing, law, education, public relations and a host of other fields.

History & Political Science

The history and political science majors are enrolled in rigorous courses such as History of Russia, History of the Christian Church Through the Reformation, Congress and the Presidency and Axis of Evil: North Korea, Iran and Iraq. History and political science majors graduate with an excellent understanding in their chosen field of study.

First Row: John Santosuosso, Barbara Giles, James Denham, Geri Sparks

Language

Angelica Elortegui, Jose Garcia, Rosita Martinez.
Not pictured: Luis Jimenez

FSC requires all students seeking a Bachelor's of Arts Degree to take 12 credits of a foreign language. These included Spanish, French, and Greek. The Language Department professors are knowledgeable with these skills and are willing to spend extra time to help any student to learn the language better.

Math

First Row: Daniel Jelsovsky, Gayle S. Kent, Susan Serrano, David Rose
Second Row: Kenneth Henderson, Shawn Hedman,
Allen Wuerz, Michael Way

Math majors are required to take classes like Number Theory and Discrete Math. Many math majors are also computer science majors. Those majors take Software System Development, Artificial Intelligence, and Database Design. When math majors graduate many go to graduate school, where as the computer science majors usually join the job force as computer programmers.

Music

The music majors are experts when it comes to reading music. Before a music major enters FSC, he or she auditions in the specialty area and then chooses a concentration. Those concentrations are performance, sacred music, music education or music business. Women students can join Delta Omicron and men can join Phi Mu Alpha. Whether the students' focus is vocal or instrumental music, music majors graduate with a better understanding of their instruments.

Nursing

The nursing students enjoy their classes

The nursing department is one of the best kept secrets on campus. Many students do not know FSC offers a Bachelor of Science in nursing. Registered nurses who complete nursing school at a community college are able to earn their BSN in the evening class on the Lakeland or Orlando campuses. With their master's degree, the advanced practice nurses will become nursing professors and clinical experts in the community.

Physical Education

The physical education majors chose between a variety of majors including physical education, athletic training and sports management. If students want to get more involved in the department they can join the Sports Medicine Club, the Physical Education Majors Club, or the honorary Phi Epsilon Kappa Fraternity.

Psychology

Patrick Smith, Richard Burnette, Bruce Darby, Chris Weaver, Christopher Ramey

The psychology department teaches students how to adapt to different fields of psychology because there are so many jobs available as a psychology major. They can get jobs in business, in teaching, in a mental hospital, or go on to get their doctorate and be clinical practitioners.

The psychology majors can get involved with Psi Chi, the psychology honor society. Through special events, trips and class lectures, psychology majors are able to enter the job force fully prepared.

Religion & Philosophy

Christian education and religion majors are active in church and professional scholarly organizations. The department sponsors two Greek honorary organizations: Theta Chi Beta, for religion majors who complete at least 12 hours of class, and Sigma Rho Epsilon, for Christian education majors.

Daniel Silber, W. Waite Willis, Jr., Sara Fletcher Harding, W. Alan Smith, R. Frank Johnson

ROTC

Florida Southern Army Reserve Officer Training Corporation (ROTC) program prepares college students for life in the Army and in the civilian world. ### From the Editor:

Energy, sleep, exercise and nutrition are what this year's Interlachen staff are all lacking. With long weekends consisting of five days and late nights, tons of sugar and junk food, the book came together and the 2005-2006 book, web site and video finished with a bang. I hope that you enjoy the video because we tried to squeeze as much of the student body in as possible. I hope that you take the time to go through the web site, because it contains all the pages of the book. In fact, I want to stress that the print files are on the disc so you can print up your own book. A staff of fourteen worked really hard to put this all together so you can enjoy it.

I also wanted to give a special thanks to the Spring COM 398 Advanced Desktop Publishing class for helping with layout and proofing. The class helped tremendously to get the book rockin' and rollin'. Another special thanks to Andrew Pearson and Wayne Koehler for providing pictures. Once again, enjoy your time flipping through the pages. Reminisce about the past year because soon our very own comfortable FSC campus will change.

Bob: Bob thanks for having patience with me and helping me get my stuff together to put together an awesome book! You're a good advisor, and I know next year will be better than this because of all the experience and lessons and learning from this year. I have big plans and I hope you're up to the challenge of helping and teaching the best staff in the world!

Danny: Although we got at each other's throats a couple times, you did an awesome job on everything you helped with. Everything looks great and I am pleased to say that I am ecstatic that you did it. Your expertise will be missed for next year but I know that you must move on to bigger and better things. I wish you luck! And remember Danny, have fun and smile!

Cara: Hey, ding-dong! Thanks for always making me laugh when I got upset or stressed. You did an awesome job on the video and I'm glad that I got to know such a talented person. I know we tell each other that we got "stuck" together, I am glad, because I had tons of fun getting to know you: spinning on chairs, dancing, singing and let's not forget learning. Without all of the fun we had, we wouldn't have anything to show for it!

Allison: Your humor was great to have around. Thank you so much for providing fun times for us while waiting for people during portraits. Good luck in your life and all you do. Your presence and help will be greatly missed next year. Hope everything in life treats you well.

Noa: Wow. That single word is enough for you. You did an awesome job and it all came together because of your amazing help. You pulled some amazing stuff out of your hat, and I thank you so much for it. Noa, without you I don't think we would have a book. Yes, you did an amazing job and I'll never forget all the good times and struggles we had. Oh yeah, those late nights several days in a row, hope you recover because it will all start again next year, Ms. Assistant Editor!

Heather & Kaitlin: Girls, you did an awesome job and reached beyond the expectations that I had for you! I'll never forget your kindness and I hope no one ever takes you for granted because of your awesome hearts. Thank you for helping and stepping forward for what turned out to be incredible!

Soundtrack Pro: Yeri, I won't tell anybody else about the first time we met, but I hope you know I'll never forget it! Thank you for being such a good friend and such a hard worker. I always hoped that your first year here was doing something you love and that's why I am glad that I am the one that gave that opportunity to you. I hope that the years to come at FSC will help improve your talent to get you somewhere big in life!

To my Sissy: Laura, I had a blast when you here with me, and its too bad that FSC didn't work out for you. But I am thankful that I still get to see you and that you come down to visit me as much as you do. I hope you realize that seeing you is something very special to me and that you help me a ton to relax and vent, and I am very grateful I have you as my sister! I love you tons!

To my friends: Melissa thanks for all the moral support and guidance throughout the semester. Thanks for your ear, and mostly thanks for the great advice you gave me. You're an awesome friend, and I know your best is thee best! Kathy, I am sorry for missing your senior recital and not filming. Tori, I'm looking forward to hanging out with you next year.

To my roommate: Anna, sorry about all the late nights and the annoying alarm clocks. In the end it was all worth getting to know you this year! You're an awesome roommate! I had fun, and wish you luck in life!
